Narisah jokes that she's a German pop / Ghettech artist because she says her music is art and belongs to no particular genre. Narisah a Chicago based artist is set to unveil her new single 'Crash Dummy' on April 29th, 2011.

The track comes from the forthcoming studio album 'Crash Dummy' which consequently has a revised release date of early July 2011. She's working with her long time producer Ic.ON from Chicago on the project.

'Crash Dummy', which will be available in Digital format only, will be the first single released off of the Crash Dummy EP due out in early July of 2011. It follows previous singles 'E.S.P' the theme song from the movie E.S.P and 'Money' from the sound track of 'E.S.P' the movie.

'Crash dummy' the single will be available for a free download. The music video is approaching too.

'Crash Dummy' the EP will be released in early July 2011.
