Excess Baggage, one of the top international shipping companies in the UK specialises in the secure and low-cost shipping of luggage across the world to many destinations inside secure shipping containers, helping to avoid hefty costs that most airlines charge on luggage that exceeds their weight limits.

Excess Baggage can especially help international students as they will typically have a larger amount of possessions, clothing and other items to take home with them. Whether it is shipping luggage to Europe, shipping to Malaysia or shipping to Hong Kong Excess Baggage can easily help to take care of all possessions safely and at reasonable cost.

David Elliot, Chairman at Excess Baggage said, "We appreciate it can be difficult for international students studying here in the UK to get all their possessions back home with them.

"Airlines now charge a hefty sum if bags are over their weight and size limits, which is a common problem for people studying in the UK for years at a time." David added: "Fortunately we can help students ship their bags back home at low rates even for longer haul trips to China, Singapore, India or America".

The Excess Baggage service can be used to store baggage before sending bags and other forms of luggage inside secure shipping containers of differing sizes to suit any needs. In the 25 years the company has been operating it has shipped more than 50,000 orders per year to and from over 300 locations worldwide using either air freight for more immediate shipping or a combination of road and sea freight transport for a more affordable service.

Orders for shipping baggage can be made over the phone or via the website at excess-baggage.com, with prices on shipping to USA starting from just £146 and many other low-cost services available to wherever students need help in sending their possessions.
