It's nearly that time of the year again. Yes, Father's Day is just around the corner! And up and down the country, people are scratching their heads trying to work out how to make their dad's day extra special.

Dads are famously difficult to buy for. While Mother's Day can be catered for with a bunch of flowers or a trip to a hotel spa, a lot of people end up asking themselves whether their dad really needs another tie with a picture of Homer Simpson on it. That's where Experience Days comes in. You might have heard of the racing track experiences available on the website, or you might have used a spa for two experience day last Mother's Day. However, there are many more options available at Experience Days. The company has put together a fantastic selection of special Father's Day experience gifts that will put a much bigger smile on your dad's face than an item of clothing he'll never wear or a book he'll never read.

Many people choose the obvious option and pick a racing car experience for their dads' special day. But although no one can deny that zooming around a professional race circuit in a Lamborghini, Ferrari or Aston Martin will make a lot of people happy, some dads are different. A dream come true for one dad might leave another cold – or he may simply have done it already. That's why there's such a wide range of experiences on offer this year. Your dad's a bit of a gourmet? Why not take him to a Thai cooking class? He's into the wonders of nature? Try a day spent handling birds of prey with a professional falconer.

Adventure days out are always a hit – and what's more, they can be a brilliant way to bond with your dad. From a classy family photoshoot to a day he'll never forget spent fire walking (not for the fainthearted!), there's something on offer to suit everyone. For a limited period only, a generous discount is also on offer for all gift experiences bought with Father's Day in mind.

Time spent together doing something interesting, unusual or just plain weird can be a powerful way to bring you and your dad closer.

Experience gifts are more than just a material hand-over like yet another comedy tie or a new pair of socks – they're a way of saying that you want to build shared experiences with him. So, the next time you're winding each other up, you can stop and reminisce about the time he unexpectedly proved to be a whiz at ice climbing, or the delicious wine the two of you tasted on a tour of a Sussex vineyard. A well-chosen experience day can be the starting point for memories that will last a lifetime.

But don't worry too much – if your dad isn't enthusiastic about the experience you've chosen for him, he can easily swap it for something different of the same value at the company's website.
