Car hire in the Balaeric Island from less than 100 Euro a week as Sant Joan celebrations fill the skies with fireworks. Provider of cheap car hire Mallorca Ritmo Cars is delighted to be celebrating the Fira de Sant Joan along with all island residents and holidaymakers this year. The cheap car hire company is preparing itself for a spike in rentals as the summer solstice week begins, and the Spanish islands' tourist season gets into full swing. Mallorca will be enjoying its biggest summer party this June 24th, 'The Day of Saint John', which celebrates the summer solstice with medieval parades and games in the Ciutadella and glorious bonfires and fireworks on the beaches. It is a celebration which has made the island famous around the world; and Ritmo Cars is encouraging holidaymakers to join in, by making it cheaper to drive the island and explore the fiestas as they arise.

Tourists looking to journey around the beautiful Balaeric Island can now take advantage of the company's super-low prices, with car hire for Fiat Panda, Ford Ka and Renault Twingo models starting at 98 Euro a week.

Family travellers will love the medieval 'convidada' on the evening of the 24th, when the Sant Joan crowds are invited to Es Pla to watch the most extreme and exhilarating of the equestrian games that mark this festival (very keen tourists can also catch the game trials in the morning - 10am at Placa de Sant Joan).

And with a hired Ritmo Car, such as the Ford Fiesta from 108 Euro, or a Renault Megane from 357 Euro, resort guests can easily drive (kids included) from their hotel to catch up on the action. Child seats and boosters can also be purchased at an extra cost of 3 Euro per seat per day.
