July 06, 2012, 6:30 am -- /EPR NETWORK/ -- Do you use an online parcel courier? Are they truly online? Many companies simply have a website with a phone number to call to book a collection – So are they really an online parcel courier?

Here at Worldwide Parcels we believe that an online parcel courier is only truly online if they allow you to book online, pay online and track your parcel online.

We can tell you that there are massive advantages to booking a parcel collection and delivery online, versus ordering a collection over the phone.

Firstly if you have to phone the parcel services company and speak to someone to make a booking, then you are probably having to use a rate card to manually work out a volumetric price for your parcel, which let's face it is not easy. Then you have to phone your pickup through, and probably be on hold for 5 minutes before having to painstakingly read all the details out over the phone. We like you, know that if you do this daily it can waste a lot of your time. So why not opt to do things smarter and simpler?

Using Worldwide Parcels latest online booking system you can get an instant quote on sending a parcel to Australia or Vietnam and every country in the alphabet in between. Also unlike other parcel services our quotation system is fully automated, so you get your quote instantly – no filling in a form and then waiting around for someone to email you a quote back hours later, and no more looking at a rate card to work out the price.

We save you time by simplifying the quotation process, all we need to give you a quote is the destination, and the parcels weight and size - with Worldwide Parcels we make it that simple.

Within seconds we will display your parcel quote online, and you can even see which parcel courier we have chosen to send it with, along with an estimate of how long it will take to get to its destination. We believe we are unique in offering this level of detail on our quotations.

We offer the advantage that as you never have to phone us, you are never wasting time being on hold, or giving out delivery details over the phone.

By using our online parcel booking system you also have the advantage in that you can book a collection at any time of day or night, even at 4 am in the morning! Many traditional parcel couriers only take bookings from 9 to 5, but we are open 24/7. So if you place an order whilst we are asleep, we'll be straight on to it the next morning.

Worldwide Parcels also offers hassle free parcel tracking, you don't need to phone us, you can just put your booking number in on our website and see where your parcel is in the delivery chain, meaning you can update your customer instantly.

So the next time you need to book a parcel collection and delivery then try out Worldwide Parcels new online booking system, we guarantee it will save you time and offer you the best rates available with the chosen parcel courier.
