

The UK's New Market Leader in Fair, Honest and Wholly Independent Motorhome Buying

SellMyMotorhome.com Flies the Flag for Simplicity, Value for Money and Outstanding Customer Service

Worksop, Nottinghamshire, United Kingdom, January 19, 2016 — /EPR NETWORK/ — The United Kingdom has a new market-leader in independent motorhome buying – all thanks to an innovative, simple and fully-comprehensive service package. SellMyMotorhome.com set up as a small business with big ambitions, though has already topped the table as Britain's leading independent buyer of motorhomes and recreational vehicles.

Traditionally something of a complicated process, SellMyMotorhome.com has brought genuine simplicity and fairness to the motorhome selling process for the very first time. Quite the contrary to the traditional selling process, obtaining a quote and closing a sale with SellMyMotorhome.com is as simple as entering a few vehicle details online and letting the pros take over. The market has for some time been saturated with car buying services and those specialising in other kinds of vehicles – specialist motorhome buying service being a notable exception.

SellMyMotorhome.com has already earned a reputation for genuine excellence up and down the country, though has no intention of slowing down anytime soon.

Real Experts, Honest Valuations

"One of our experienced valuers will value your motorhome based on make, model, age, condition and mileage and any other relevant information you provide. As you know, motorhomes have many variations and we may need to call you with a few additional questions, so please do include your phone number in the box where requested. We will then send you the current valuation of your motorhome." – SellMyMotorhome.com

One of the most standout characterises about the SellMyMotorhome.com buying package is how the team insists on only ever offering fair, accurate and honest valuations that are NOT subject to change. This is made possible by stepping away from the norm and refusing to use unreliable computer systems to determine vehicle value. There's so much more to determining how much a vehicle is worth than simply asking for its licence plate number and hammering it into a machine. Instead, experienced professionals with comprehensive industry knowledge consider make, model, mileage, age, condition, modifications and more, in order to offer a quotation that's as accurate and honest as possible.

By ensuring quotations are accurate, SellMyMotorhome.com is uniquely able to guarantee that the price quoted is the price paid, every time. Unlike so many rival services, there are no hidden fees, no admin charges, no collection costs and no deductions whatsoever to worry about. As soon as the price is quoted, it is set in stone – simple, effective and reliable.

Selling Made Supremely Simple

"Once you have received the valuation of your motorhome we will make you an instant cash offer based on the information you have provided us with. If you choose to accept the offer, we will make the arrangements for collection and payment. We provide a free collection service and one of our experienced collection team will come at a time to suit you. They will of course inspect the motorhome, but if it is as you have described it to us, the purchase is guaranteed and we will transfer secure funds direct to your bank account." – SellMyMotorhome.com

Simplicity also sets SellMyMotorhome.com in an entirely different league from that of its closest rivals. Originally established to offer a genuinely appealing alternative to the norm, the team has worked long and hard to create the total service package for customers. If a quotation is accepted, SellMyMotorhome.com arranges fast, free and convenient collection of the vehicle, anywhere in the United Kingdom. Payment is transferred at the time of collection and as much help as required is provided to ensure the necessary paperwork is completed in full.

For the first time, it really is possible to arrange and close a sale on any motorhome or recreational vehicle before the end of the day. To discuss a quotation or for more information on how to sell your motorhome the easy way,
