Top 10 Nairobi Day Tours and Masai Mara Safaris in Kenya

The Migration Starts in Masai Mara Early in 2017

Nairobi, Kenya, 2017-Jun-13 — /EPR Network/ — The migration of wildebeests and zebras have now entered the Mara. This has been confirmed today (7th June, 2017) after a fact finding mission round the entry points along the Mara and Serengeti border. Though this is still in its' initial stages, every indication shows that the stage is set for the world's most fascinating wildlife spectacle. A few herds of mainly zebras and wildebeest have crossed the border near sand river gate. They could be seen this morning taking their traditional route towards Roan hill, and some have already crossed the main road to the Mara river from Sekenani gate. Their movement however is slower because of the amount of grass in their way. Since April this year we have continued having intermittent rains which has made the plains covered in long green grass. we are still experiencing sporadic rain showers.
